BEREAVEMENT HEALING FLUSH

Bereavement Healing Flush is a mental and emotional healing system that helpful to transform buried grief & loss, possibly manifesting as an unreasonable fear of loss or an inability to deal with another's grief.

Grief is a very powerful emotion and one that many people are unaware that they carry at an unconscious level. A deep loss, whether caused by death, divorce or in some other way, leaves a shock in our energetic system. When we are unable to release the accompanying very natural emotions of grief and sadness these feelings are gradually buried deeper and deeper into the unconscious. Buried grief can often be recognised as a sense of unexplained sadness in the heart or perhaps as a fear of making a real heart connection with someone in case the pain of loss is repeated. Sometimes when working with this emotion we can find that the root of the issue comes from our original feelings of grief at separation from our twin soul. As we release and transmute these old memories we are able to open our hearts and recognize that we have always been connected to the Whole.
